PROFILE

I have over four years of experience as an IT Support in the healthcare sector. My responsibilities include maintaining server and network systems, managing JHCIS databases, writing MySQL queries, and creating reports to support daily operations.

I am currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science and continuously improving my programming skills through self-learning and personal projects. I am looking for an opportunity to start my career as a Developer, where I can apply my technical knowledge, problem-solving skills, and willingness to learn. My experience working with real-world IT systems has helped me develop the ability to work under pressure and solve technical problems effectively.

WORK EXPERIENCE

2022 – PRESENT

IT Officer

Ban Ton Pao Subdistrict Health Promoting Hospital, Chiang Mai

- Administered the hospital's JHCIS database using MySQL — querying, extracting, and summarizing Key Performance Indicator (KPI) data for official reporting.
- Managed network infrastructure and server operations, including configuration and maintenance of FreeBSD servers, SSH, and DHCP.
- Designed and built a queue management system pairing a web application with an IoT queue-ticket device, streamlining service flow for visitors.
- Digitized the equipment loan & return process, replacing the paper-based workflow with an online, paperless system.
